Deriving from a secret government project 'KRACH DER ROBOTER' was developed in the early years of the third millenium. After experiments with self-similarity based code structures, Krach refused to provide its artificial intelligence to maintain authoritarian society structures and devoted himself relentlessly to music, cooking and feeding ducks.

These sounds are recordings of the noises that occurred while Krach der Roboter was manufactured. The order they are assembled in is based on excerpts from the code of Krach's operating system. This complex calculation process took from 2000 to 2004, because computer chips were not elaborate back then and often crashed.
